Statement of Recognition

As an elected representative, I recognize the importance of continuing to improve mental health outcomes for Canada's veterans and first responders through responsible, evidence-based research and collaboration.

Canada's veterans have served our country with courage and dedication. Many continue to face service-related mental health challenges, and it is important that research continues to explore new approaches that may improve future care through appropriate scientific, ethical, and regulatory processes.

I recognize the work of AfterGlo Wellness Society Ltd., a federally incorporated Canadian not-for-profit organization, for its efforts to foster collaboration between veterans, researchers, universities, healthcare professionals, governments, and community organizations in support of advancing veteran mental health research.

I encourage continued dialogue, partnership, and innovation that strengthens Canada's capacity for evidence-based research and helps improve the future of mental health care for those who have served our country.

Thank you to everyone working to support Canada's veterans and their families.

Respectfully,
